This month's newsletter highlights 8 ways you can get involved at the library. The Friends of the Library will be holding a special meet and greet to provide further information about their volunteer opportunities on Tuesday, October 3rd at 12:00 noon.

Opportunity #1

Unfortunately, we don't have any elves to bake the cookies for our annual bake sale. That's why we rely on the many volunteers who provide a dozen or two cookies, a cake, candy or other goodies to make the sale a success. Once the baking is done we also need volunteers to take what's been donated and package it up beautifully to sell. And of course we need helpers to help run the sale on December 8th from 9 to 4 and December 9th from 9 to 1.

Do you have an interest in art? Our art committee is in need of volunteers to help promote art shows, help the artists hang or take down artwork and organize open shows.

Opportunity #2

Opportunity #3

Put your internet savvy to work by helping to evaluate and post books for sale online through Amazon.

Opportunity #4

Our book sales are now taking place twice a month on the fourth Tuesday of the month from 10:00 to 8:00 and the Saturday before from 10:00 to 3:00 p.m. Our book sales are dependent on volunteers all month long. If you only have an hour a week, why not volunteer to sort books by date and genre. If you have a little more time, we have sorters who stop by a few times a week to empty out the donation wagons and organize what's been donated. We also need volunteers to staff the book sales.

Opportunity #5 and #6

Our annual Holiday Craft Show on November 11th needs volunteers to help set-up and direct vendors and buyers before and during the event. The same holds true for our annual Yard Sale in the spring, where we also need volunteers to help direct library patrons.

Opportunity #7

Shelving and checking-in books properly are two very important jobs here at the library. We are always looking for volunteers who can spend 1 or 2 hours per week helping in this way. These volunteers are also called upon to do other circulation related jobs such as pulling books that have been placed on hold and organizing shelves. Our youngest volunteers can be Adopt-A-Shelf volunteers which start as young as 14 years of age.

Opportunity #8

Don't you love finding a great book at a reasonable price? So do many of our patrons who visit our bookstore where we mostly sell items published in the last 3 years. Volunteers in the store talk with others who love books and collect payment. You can even read on the job while you volunteer!
